Montgomery County, Virginia – The Montgomery County Voter Registrar’s office announced today that electronic poll books will be used for the first time during the Christiansburg Town Election on May 4.

Traditionally, there are two lines for voters to stand in – each organized alphabetically according to the first letter of the voters’ last name. This method will no longer be used due to the utilization of electronic poll books and voters can pick either line they wish.

“This should speed up the registration process and reduce long lines,” said Montgomery County Voter Registrar Randall Wertz.
