A. New River Community College- Access to Community College Education (ACCE) Program

Angie Covey will make a presentation on NRCC's ACCE Program. Access to Community College Education (ACCE) is a public/private partnership that makes college available tuition-free to high school graduates from participating localities in the New River Valley by covering the cost of tuition for two years at New River Community College. The locality designates a dollar amount that is matched by donations from local industries and private sponsors. ACCE supports as many students as possible based on student need and funds available for the program. The goal of the ACCE program is for students to graduate from NRCC prepared to join the workforce or transfer to a four-year university without college debt.
