

Adoption of the 2021 Virginia Uniform Stateside Building Code (USBC)

Summary: Virginia adopts the 2021 Uniform Stateside Building Code (USBC).

Effective Date: Administrative provisions of the 2021 USBC will be effective on January 18, 2024. From January 18, 2024 (effective date may change), until January 17, 2025, building permit applicants may choose to use the technical provisions of either the 2018 or 2021 USBC. Mixing technical provisions between the two editions of the code is prohibited. Beginning January 18, 2025, all new building permit applications and construction must meet the 2021 USBC requirements. This deadline includes updating “Masterfiles” to reflect the 2021 USBC. Developers must update existing county approved Masterfile plans to the 2021 USBC and receive county approval prior to January 18, 2025, to avoid delays in permit processing.

Background: The 2021 USBC version will replace the 2018 USBC. This technical bulletin supersedes technical bulletin 21-08.

Policy: On January 18, 2024, the 2021 Uniform Stateside Building Code (USBC) will go into effect. The 2021 USBC references the codes listed below and includes the Virginia-specific technical amendments.

- 2021 International Building Code
